In-Text Citation

APA adds to MLA style by including page number(s), and date. The date is generally provided parenthetically next to author(s) name(s), while page numbers always appear parenthetically at the ends of sentences.

If the author's name is also parenthetical, then the entire citation appears at the end of the sentence in the form (author's last name, date, p.#).

Two authors: For signal phrases use "and," and to list multiple authors parenthetically use an ampersand (&).

More than two authors: Use only the first author's last name and "et al."

If there is no author, mention the title in-text, or use the first few words of the title followed by date in parentheses.
